About Kirsten

I was born in Connecticut and was raised in the cornfields of Indiana. During my freshman year of high school, I moved to Florida and stayed there until 2018 when we pursued professional opportunities in Dayton, Ohio – how much I’ve missed the four seasons! I have my bachelor’s degree in Human Resources Management from Franklin University and my associate’s degree in Arts from St. Petersburg College; I work from home as a Talent Acquisition Coordinator for a healthcare company based in Ohio.

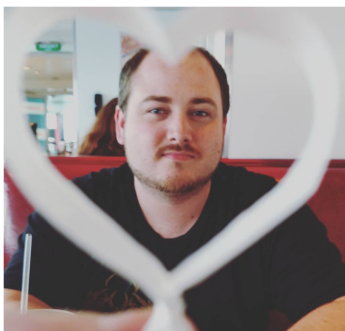

I have two older brothers and a younger sister with many, many nieces and nephews (15 total)! I still can’t believe my oldest nephew is going to be twenty... time flies when you’re having fun!

My biggest passions are crafting and reading; giving is my love language. I am so incredibly grateful that I have the opportunity to give everything I have to a child through adoption. My nephews and nieces are my world and to have the opportunity to raise a child would be the greatest pleasure of my lifetime.

My friends and family know me for my Harry Potter obsession. I have even visited Diagon Alley at Universal Studios, Orlando. I’ll admit, I cried with happiness when I saw it face-to-face – it truly was magical! I started buying the collection of Illustrated Harry Potter books several years ago so that I can read them to our future child.

About Peter

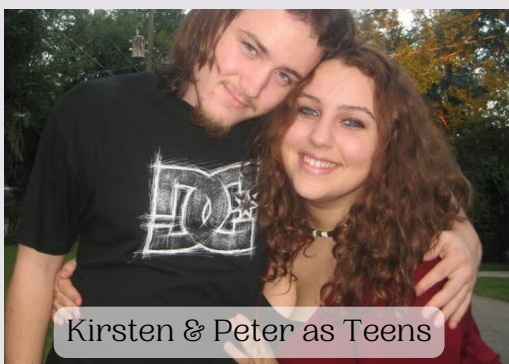

I was born and raised in New York and moved to Florida when I was ten years old. I graduated from high school and then pursued and received a degree in Computer Programming and Analysis from St. Petersburg College. In 2018, we moved to Dayton, Ohio for our professional growth and opportunities. I currently work from home as an IT Application Analyst for a healthcare company based in Indiana and thoroughly enjoy my job and its flexibility.

I have one older sister and a younger brother with five nieces and nephews. Adoption is not unfamiliar in my family, my mom and uncle were adopted along with two of my nieces and nephews – I knew I've always wanted to adopt.

I enjoy spending time with friends and family with board games and pizza night. Board games were always an important part of my childhood since they brought us together and I look forward to continuing that tradition with my child.

I am always up to date with technology, and I enjoy creating games and applications. I’m currently working on a game with a few friends that we’ve been working on for over two years. Game development is everchanging and I love the puzzles and problem solving it provides.

About Us

We would consider how we met as fate. We met online while Kirsten was living in Indiana and Peter in Florida. Once Kirsten moved to Florida, we realized we lived a short driving distance away from each other and met for the first time when we were teenagers in 2009. We have been together ever since.

We got married in April of 2015 in front of our family and friends. We've always talked about having a family of our own since we were kids, knowing that we wanted to adopt regardless of if we could have children of our own. Right after we got married, we had the unfortunate diagnosis of infertility and remained optimistic that our family would grow by the blessing of adoption as we've always planned.

We own a two story home in a quiet subdivision just outside of Dayton with our two furbaby Golden Retrievers, Charlie and Delta.

You are brave, beautiful, and selfless.

Dreams for our Child

Having grown up the way we both did, we want to provide a loving, caring, and supportive family for our child. We want our future child to be the best person they can be. We will be present and encouraging.

We want our future child to reach for the stars and obtain them. We want them to want for nothing and know that they have family to guide and protect them. Being their adoptive parents, we want them to know that their family doesn't end with us, they are special in that they have support from everyone.

We want our future child to be independent thinkers and use their knowledge to benefit others; we want them to want to give back. We want them to participate in activities, clubs, or teams. We want them to celebrate themselves just like we all celebrate them. We want them to love as they are loved.

Thank you
