

Andrew & Shiloh

hello

Thank you so much for taking the time to get to know us a little better! It is an honor that you have chosen to look at our profile book and are considering us to take part in this journey with you. Although we are very excited to be given this opportunity, we know that this could not have been an easy choice for you. No matter if you choose us or another couple, we wish to express how incredibly brave you are; thank you for staying strong for your child. It takes so much love, courage and sacrifice to do this and we will never be able to express the gratitude we have for those who give their child and couples like us, this amazing gift. If you should choose us, we would love to keep you informed on their progress through pictures and/or letters, if you should want that. Either way, you would always be a huge part of our lives.

OUR PROMISE TO YOU

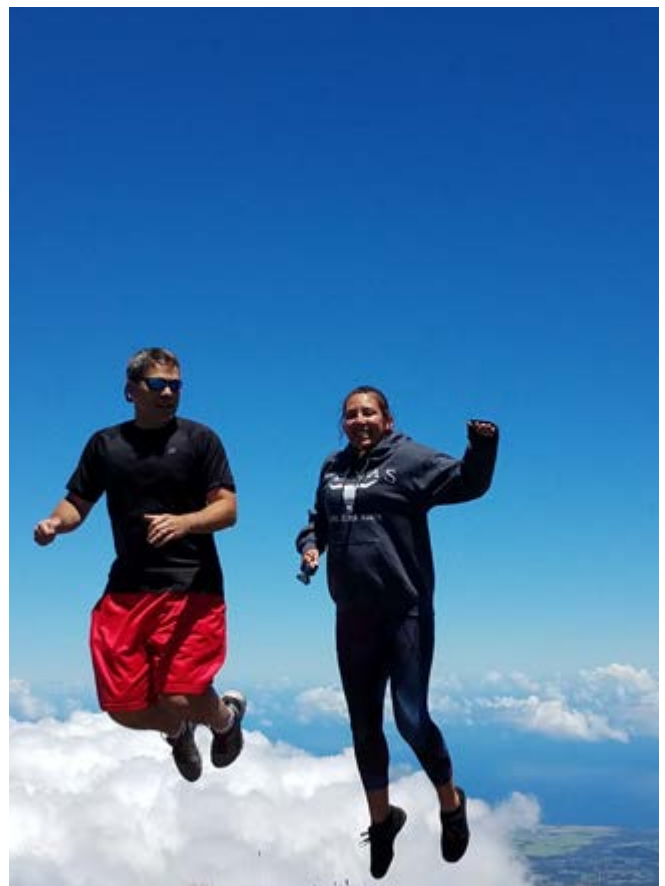

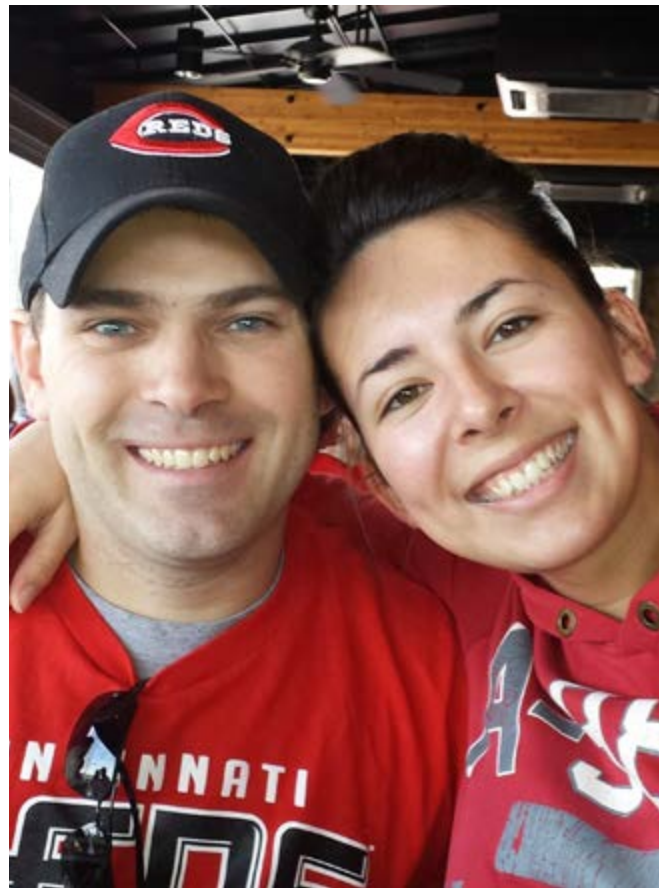

From the very beginning, when we discussed having a family, we always knew that we wanted to adopt, as some of our closest friends/family have come to be with us through adoption. At the time, we didn't know it would be one of our only options to start a family, but that only made it that much more "mean't to be" and special for us. We promise, if you should choose us, that your child will have every ounce of love we have within us to give. They will always have a safe home with us, a good education, our unwavering support, encouragement and understanding. When they have hopes and dreams, we will help them achieve them. We promise to always be there for them, no matter what life may bring.

Andrew & Shiloh

Our Story

Our story has been a fantastical adventure from day one; December 22, 2012 to be exact. Andrew's best friend was about to sit next to me, when he noticed I wasn't wearing a ring & he decided to be a matchmaker. He asked Andrew to switch his seats so Andrew would be sitting next to me. BEST Christmas gift a stranger has ever given me!! Fast forward to February 20, 2016, we were on vacation in Fiji, when we are told we must evacuate due to an incoming tropical storm. My proposal plans for later that night were dashed!! So in the early morning, as we stood by the stormy ocean waiting for our boat, I proposed to Shiloh. By the time we made it to the airport, we were covered in salt from the boat ride & it was the last flight out before the storm hit but we were on cloud 9. We were engaged, outran a tropical storm, and had an awesome story to tell. Since then, we got married, bought our first house together, took in two little dogs, Da Vinci & Nox, who are our very loved & spoiled fur children. In July 2020, our forever home was finished being built and we have been there for over 3 years. We had designed it hoping to fill it with our children & on Shiloh's birthday in 2021, our wish came true. A birth mother selected us to adopt her baby boy. 7 months later, on our 5 year anniversary, our son Sawyer was born and we became a family of 3...well 5 if you include the fur children haha. Sawyer turned one in August and it seems as if time has just flown by. He has gotten so big and has changed so much. He's changed us in profound ways and we have grown with him. We have hopes and dreams for our family and one of those is to give Sawyer a sibling. We absolutely love our story; it made us the strong family we are today & we wouldn't trade it for anything.

MEET

Andrew

I was born in Cincinnati, Ohio. I have a twin brother, and three sisters; my youngest two sisters are also twins. They look more alike than my brother and I. Most people who meet my brother and I, cannot believe we are twins. Growing up, my family was very busy with sports and activities. However, we always found time to have dinner together most nights and have family game nights. My brother, dad and I especially loved playing a couple particular board games; It was hours of fun. I did play sports growing up: baseball and soccer and I tried football one year, but it was not for me. My dad coached my brother and I every year until we graduated and then he started coaching my sisters. One thing my dad always instilled in me was a good work ethic. Even though my brother and I were playing sports, he had us start working at sixteen so we could start saving for college.

I was lucky to also grow up with a great mom. She is where I get my patience from and learned to always be generous and kind and a huge reason why I will always lend a helping hand. She also never missed a single game that we played.

I was accepted to the University of Toledo where I received a degree in Marketing and Sales, and made lifelong friends. It also helped me learn how to be on my own.

After college I returned back to Centerville and started working for my family business. Fast forward 10 years, and my brother, sister and I bought the business from my Dad. It has been quite the experience owning my own business.

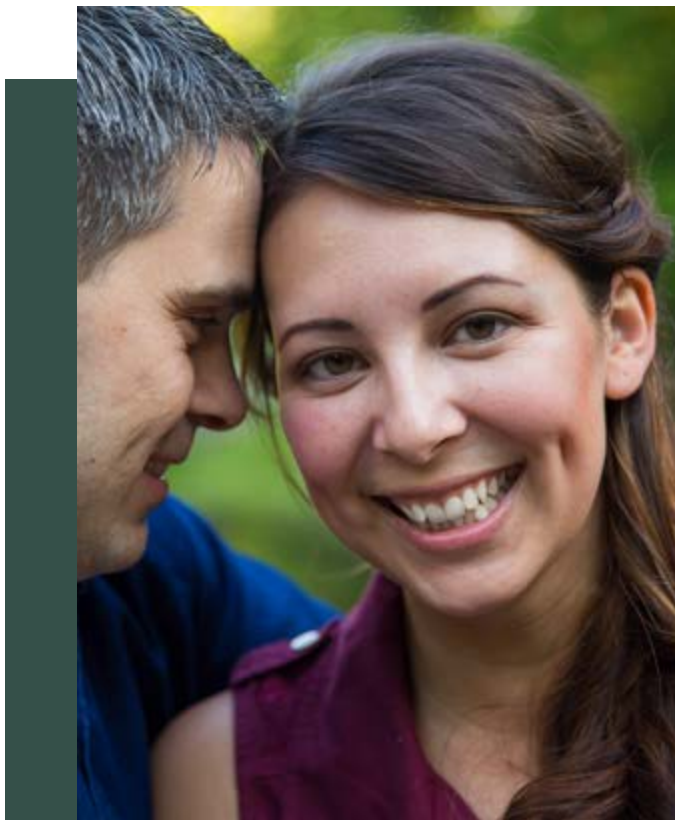

I love being outside and staying active most days, but I also love to play video games and board games with family and friends. I would say I am competitive, but ultimately the main thing I enjoy is just having fun.

My parents have a home down in Florida that we visit often, and I love being on the water. If I could be fishing or on a boat most days, I would love it. Travelling is something I like to do as well, and learn about other parts of the United States and World.

Two of my sisters and my brother have had kids now, so I have 7 nieces and 3 nephews , plus the one niece and 7 nephews from Shiloh's side. My best friends, who are like brothers to me, also have had kids, 6 boys and 6 girls. I am the godfather to three of the girls. It has been awesome watching them grow up and now our son, Sawyer, is growing up with them and I cannot begin to describe the joy that has brought us; to see them all grow up as close as we all were and still are.

Place: Wherever my family is

I grew up in the very small town of Milan, Indiana, My father is from Honduras & he mostly raised me himself, until he met my mom. He raised me to have a strong work ethic & how you appreciate things more when you work for it. I'm very proud of him.

My mom is very much like my dad; she's very outgoing & hard working & the master of every type of game; she always wins somehow!! She's a beautiful force. When I came along, this scrawny, awkward 8 yr. old, her & her family welcomed me with open arms & literally put a plate of food in my hands & sat me at the family table. Through her, I have an older sister & two older brothers & they're amazing. They all took me under their wing like I was a long lost sister. So in a way, they all adopted me. We have a lot of nieces & nephews & cousins from both sides of our families. In my moms family, camping & Sunday family dinner is life. So much so, my dad built a "campground" on the back of my grandparents property for everyone's campers. They even converted my grandpa's old wood shop into a giant dining room as so much family shows up for Sunday dinners. If we weren't camping, we were hiking, horseback riding, 4-wheeling, yard sale/antique shopping or just sitting around a campfire.

Not going to lie, after I graduated high school, I wasn't 100% on what I wanted to do in life; I took a few years to decide. I eventually decided that I wanted to go into radiology, as I was born with joint deformities that had to be corrected when I was in my 20's ; I knew what it was like to feel as if the very foundation of your body had betrayed you, without really understanding what was happening. I absolutely LOVE my job. I work in the ER and I get to help so many people from so many different walks of life and when they are in their darkest hour, I am one of the people that reassures them that we are there for them; we're going to help them to the best of our abilities. As much as I love my job, I love my family more. I didn't want to miss a single moment with Sawyer, so I left my job to raise him and I have enjoyed every moment of it. Maybe one day, when Sawyer and his future sibling(s) is older, I will go back to work. But right now, I just really want to enjoy watching him grow. I also love to paint and draw. I am the biggest bookworm that ever was. Harry Potter changed my life; growing up in the beginning without a mom was tough. I felt I could relate to Harry. So needless to say, I have quite the book collection & I can't wait to share them with our children.

Sawyer Grey

The day Sawyer was born...we were in shock. He was the most beautiful little boy we had ever seen. We just couldn't believe that someone was really giving us the chance to be his parents. His birthmom was extremely gracious and invited us to see his birth and it is an experience I will never forget. The moment we saw him, we fell in love and we hadn't even held him yet. When we did get to hold him, it was pure joy and that has continued everyday since.

They happiness and love that Sawyer has brought into our lives is unmeasurable. We could thank his birthmother everyday for the rest of our lives and it still wouldn't be enough. We are just so happy she chose us for him. We have loved every minute of raising him and we are hoping that one day someone will choose us again and Sawyer can have the chance to be a big brother and we will love them with our entire being. The sound of his feet pitter patter around the house just lights our faces up and we look forward to the day that we might hear multiple sets.

Hello, I am

Sawyer Grey

Sawyer Grey was born, August 5, 2022 at 4:22PM. That day happened to be our 5 year anniversary as well. You know the saying, "When the stars align"? That was very much the case with Sawyer; everything was just so...meant to be. When we recieved the phone call that we had been chosen, we were at the family home in Florida and it was my birthday! While there, we spoke to Sawyers birthmother and she explained that she had been born in Hawai'i...where we had our honeymoon, she then moved to Florida after getting married...and we have a home in Florida, then she moved to Indiana...next to my hometown! She said that her grandmother actually still lived in my hometown. We also found out that Sawyer's due date was on my moms birthday. Everything just lined up so crazy and perfect. Sawyer ended up being born on our anniversary but when we were finally able to take him home, that was on my mom's birthday, which she was very happy about.

MEET OUR Fur Children

We both have a love for animals, especially for dogs. When we met, we only had one large dog, Boomer, a Rhodesian Ridgeback/Lab mix. When he was about 9 yrs old, we noticed he wasn't as active as he used to be. Thus, Da Vinci came into our lives. He was the cutest little tan & white puppy and the perfect brother to keep Boomer on his toes. One day, while at the dog park, we heard about a 6 month old white maltese that was still looking for his forever home. We drove up with Da Vinci to meet the little fella & that is how Nox became the 4th member of our family.

BOOMER

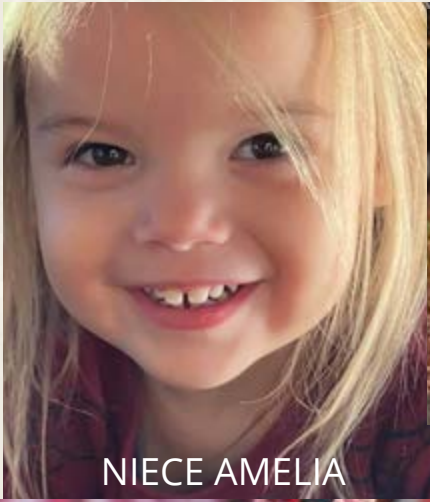

Sadly, we had to say goodbye to Boomer a few months after we moved into our new house, but he lived like a king during that time. We knew his time was close so he got all the ice cream he could want, played in the pool & barked at all the birds with his fur brothers. He was a great fur child.

Da Vinci & Nox are a dynamic duo for sure. They love boat rides and running on the beach, squeaky toys are their jam, they love to bark at animals on the tv, greenies & pup cups are their favorite dessert. Da Vinci loves to wear sweatshirts....Nox, not so much.

They both go crazy when we get their lifejackets out; it means we are about to go swimming & they LOVE to swim. We call them our fur children & our parents call them their granddogs. All of the kids in our life love them. Some call Da Vinci, "Benchy" because they can't say his name haha. It's the cutest thing. We love our fur children so much; they bring so much joy to our lives.

Our Home and Community

Andrew's parents would always host all of the family holiday parties and they were the best. We all looked forward to seeing everyone & playing girls vs. boys movie trivia, secret santa, christmas gift exchanges, or cookouts & pool parties during the summer. When Andrew's dad decided to retire, they sold their home & retired to the Hazenfield Florida house in Bonita Springs. We already knew that we wanted to build our dream home for our future children to enjoy, but we also wanted a home that we could keep the family holiday traditions alive. In 2019, we found a piece of land that we loved & we designed our "live in & grow old together" home. July 2019, we broke ground & in July 2020, we moved into our forever home. We have already been fortunate enough to host holidays and some of our nieces & nephews birthday parties. We are very thankful for the time we have been able to spend with our family here.

We have 2 acres of fenced in property that the kids and dogs can run wild in. When friends & family come over, we play football, kickball, wiffle ball & then hop into the pool afterwards. We love our neighbors!! We have become so close to them & their children. They all come over to swim with us & have cookouts & we even started a christmas tradition of going to christmas tree farms together to get that perfect, in our case, Harry Potter Christmas tree. For Thanksgiving this year, we had family come over & we made Shiloh's moms famous Pumpkin rolls for everyone to take home & enjoy for the holidays. Flour, icing & laughter everywhere!! We live close to a historic district , where the streets are lined with cute local shops, restaurants & a popular ice cream shop. We also live close to an orchard that has live music, rental barns, playground, petting zoo, cooking classes & seasonal events; we celebrated Andrew's birthday there recently. Our home is more central for the family, making it easier for everyone to meet halfway. We really tried to think of everything that would benefit our future children and the rest of our families.

Where We Began...

This was Andrew's condo; his very first place that he had bought, shortly after graduating college. After dating for a little over a year, Shiloh moved in. It was our very first place together!!

We lived in the condo for a year, when we decided it was a good time to buy our first home together. We found this little gem and fell in love with it. It needed a lot of repairs but it was a fun project.

We added flowering bushes and plants everywhere. We put in a vegetable garden and swapped vegetables with our neighbor who also had a garden.

We had so many flowers in the summer time that we were able to make our own centerpieces for our wedding.

Our final touch to the house was painting it white. Had to add a little farmhouse vibe hahaha.

Building Our Forever...

We stayed in our first house for about five years. It was a wonderful home but didn't have a lot of room for kids. That was when we officially decided to build a house for our future family.

Kids Loft

Family Room

We went through several drafts of blueprints before we felt it was just right. We wanted the kids to have their own space, so we included a kids loft, playroom, funky/cool Jack & Jill bathroom and a cozy, warm family room.

Jack & Jill Bathroom

Playroom

We really love how it turned out & we can't wait to continue building our family.

Dear Future Niece or Nephew,
It's been over a year since I've written a letter like this. The letter was written so that my brother (your dad) and my sister-in-law Shiloh (your mom) could finally have a family of their own. A few months later, I received the news that your brother, Sawyer, was going to become a part of our family. This was the BEST news I could have received. He has been such an amazing addition to our family. I know that you will have the same outcome. I hope you are ready for Sunday family dinners, birthday parties, celebrating various holidays with family and going on vacations to Bonita Springs, Florida or Brydstown, Tennessee. As your aunt, here are some promises I plan to make:

1. I promise to spoil you on every birthday and Christmas.
2. I promise to be at almost all of your dance recitals, choir/band concerts, theatre performances or sporting events.
3. I promise to welcome you with open arms and to love you every day.

You will have the BEST parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles, and cousins. I can't wait to meet you!

Aunt Amy

Dear Birth Mother,
My name is Denise and Andrew is my son and Shiloh is like a daughter to me. Andrew and Shiloh have wanted to be parents for a very long time. The love for their baby will be endless.

Their new little one will be welcomed by lots of aunts and uncles, cousins and 6 grandparents. The whole family is thrilled to have a new baby joining our family. The little one will grow up in a loving and nourishing family. Andrew & Shiloh will be wonderful parents and we look forward to meeting our newest family member.

I look forward to the day when the baby says "Grandma DeDe".

Dear Birth Mother,

My name is Tonya. I am Shiloh's step-sister and Andrew's sister-in-law. I want to start by saying I hope this letter finds you in peace. I can only imagine how difficult it has been for you getting to this point. I have always tried to put myself into another's shoes before giving advice or my opinions about life matters. When I try to put myself in your shoes, I know that the most important thing to me would be to know, without a doubt, that my baby would be loved by this new family as if he/she was their own. And that, I can promise you! Our family is a wide variety of blended families across generations. I myself was adopted. My dad is not my biological father. Shiloh is not my biological sister. One thing our family knows is unconditional love.

I can assure you that your sweet baby would be surrounded by love, support, understanding and kindness throughout his/her entire life. In addition to that, he/she would want for nothing! Shiloh and Andrew are an amazing couple! They have a very deep love for each other and wish for nothing more than to share that love with your sweet baby. Please rest assured that, in blessing Shiloh and Andrew with the gift of loving your little one, he/she will live a very blessed life!

To our future niece or nephew,

We are so excited to welcome you to our family. Your Mommy and Daddy are the best parents and we know that you will be so loved. They have showered our children with love and affection and we know they will do the same for you just as they have done with their son, Sawyer, whom they also adopted. We can't wait to snuggle you and visit with you. You'll join right into all our family dinners and pool parties. Our three daughters will be just a little older than you, so they can show you the ropes along with your brother, Sawyer. We cannot wait to meet and tell you in person how much we love you.

Aunt Amanda, Uncle Chris, Mathilda, Adelaide and Willa

Dear Birth Mother,

We are Ashley (Andrew's sister) and Ben. We have two wonderful little girls named Amelia and Ruthie, who love to play with their cousins. We are a close family that loves to often gather for dinners and celebrations. Our homes are deep with laughter and love as the children play and learn how to share and get along.

We are very much looking forward to a new little one to join Andrew and Shiloh's family. They are loving and caring people that want nothing more than to raise their children to be the best they can and most successful in whatever life path they choose. We've watched Shiloh and Andrew interact with our own children as they laugh and play with them. Our girls love going over to their house because even before they were blessed with Sawyer through adoption, they went out of their way to have toys, books, and games for all their nieces and nephews. As parents, we don't even have to worry about cribs, high chairs, or booster seats because Andrew and Shiloh purchased all of those items for us to use.

Shiloh is always warm and friendly during our visits and her cooking is simply incredible. She is creative and artistic with colorful and beautiful designs throughout her house. She is thoughtful and organized as she plans and hosts all of our family holiday parties and summer cookouts.

Andrew is super intelligent and a wonderful leader. He owns his own business that employs over 100 people, including Ben and I. With his employees, he holds an open door policy for anyone to visit his office to share thoughts and perspectives. He leads responsibly and fair as he listens and makes careful decisions involving the company and personnel. When visiting at his house, we often see him smiling at the children while he makes them laugh with his interactions with them.

In summary, we love Shiloh and Andrew dearly and think that any child would be lucky to call them mom and dad...while they too would be lucky to have another little one and to give their son a sibling. We know how wonderful children are. They make our lives more meaningful and fulfilling. We are so very excited to meet our new niece or nephew.

With much love, Ben and Ashley

Our Interests

The Hazenfield family is the biggest Bengals and Cincinnati Reds fans there is!! We like to go to Reds & Bengals games any chance we get. During the summer, when the campground is open, we go to visit and play games all day with everyone & chat around the campfire late into the night & watch the kids catch lightning bugs. We also love going to concerts with our friends. We've seen Dave Matthews Band several times, Blake Shelton (Andrew's favorite), Brett Eldridge, Taylor Swift, Luke Bryan and a few others. We like to find local gems to eat at and explore art districts while we search for the next place. If we ever get the chance to try a new adventure, we hop on it. Who know's when the chance will come again, right!? Spending time with our families in Florida is definitely one of our favorite things to do as a group. We watch the sun come up, go to the beach, fish, watch the manatees and dolphins in our canal, play card games and eat Royal Scoop ice cream on the porch as the sun goes down. As a couple, our most absolute favorite thing to do is to just be at home together with our dogs. The simplest things really are the best things in life. Sometimes we will push the couches together to make a giant couch bed and binge watch new movies or shows, make or order our favorite foods all day, and play with our dogs.

Simple but perfect.

Our Promise

We promise that every single moment of every day, we will remember the immense trust and faith you have put in us to raise and nurture your child. We promise to always know what a precious gift you have given us and the sacrifice you made to change so many lives for the better. You are someone to be celebrated in our lives and we promise that your child will know who you are & the important role you have in our lives. If you are willing to send us pictures of you & write letters, we would love to create a book for them so they can always have something of you to look upon. You will always be a part of them & they you. From the bottom of our hearts, thank you for taking the time to get to know us a little & for considering us. We sincerely hope that our words bring peace to your heart.
