

Michelle & Bradley

hello

Thank you so much for taking the time to get to know more about our family. We created this book to offer you a glimpse into who we are — the love we share, the life we've built, and the future we dream of. Our hope is that, through these pages, you'll see not only the joy and warmth that fill our home, but also the deep commitment we have to providing a safe, nurturing, and loving environment for your baby.

Our Story

Seven years ago, we met on a dating app, only for us to discover we both worked in healthcare and our offices were a mere two miles apart. Fast forward, and we've now been married for five years. In that time, we've embarked on a whirlwind of adventures—moving four times, a zoom wedding, navigating a global pandemic, buying our first home, the loss of our first dog and the joy of rescuing a puppy. Over the last few years we've faced many challenges and celebrated many victories side by side. From the excitement of unpacking in a new place to the quiet joy of creating a home together, our journey has been filled with laughter, love, and endless support. Looking back, it's amazing to see how far we've come, and we can't wait to see where life takes us next.

Why Adoption?

After years of struggling with infertility and going through the emotional and physical challenges of IVF, we decided to pursue adoption. The journey was long and filled with hope, but ultimately, we realized that our dream of becoming parents didn't have to follow a specific path. We found peace and excitement in the idea that, through adoption, we could finally become the parents we always wanted to be, even if it wasn't the way we initially imagined. We are open to loving a child of any race or background. We have a tremendous amount of love to offer and we are excited to see where this journey takes us and who it brings into our lives.

About Michelle by Bradley:

Michelle is thoughtful, compassionate and wholly committed to enriching the lives of those around her. Her ability to slow down, connect and make others feel valued is something that you rarely see in today's fast-paced, tech-driven world.

Despite being a successful business professional, Michelle is not defined by her job title or salary. She would rather be remembered by her actions and who she is at her core; a friend, sister, daughter and wife. I am drawn to her authenticity and desire to continually grow into the best version of herself. Although we have faced many challenges in our fertility journey, she has never wavered in her desire to start a family and become a mother. I am confident that she will be a forever role-model, friend and guiding light for a child, as she been this same beacon of love and inspiration for our marriage.

About Bradley by Michelle:

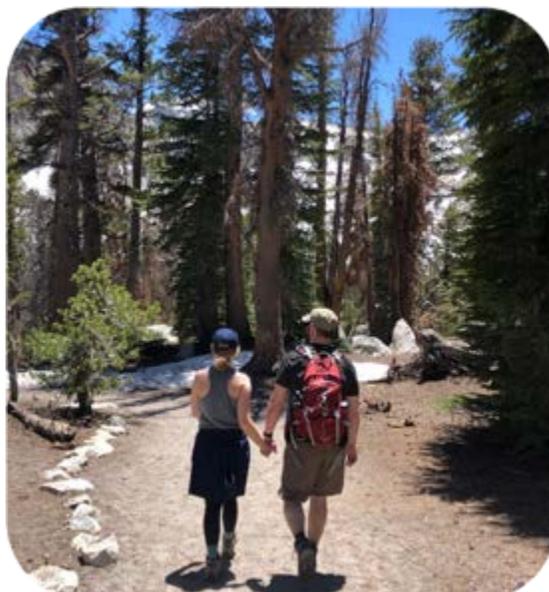

From the moment I met Bradley, I knew he was the one. He's the most caring, thoughtful, and kind-hearted person I've ever met. Bradley is driven, intelligent, and works harder than anyone I know. His commitment to family is unwavering, and he'd do anything for the people he loves. He has a remarkable ability to balance his career, family, and hobbies, and I'm incredibly fortunate to share my life with him. Whether he's crafting a new project in the workshop, enjoying a peaceful day on the water, or simply playing with George, Bradley's love and enthusiasm are always present. His steady presence and genuine kindness make every day brighter, and I couldn't ask for a better partner to walk through life with. I have no doubt that Bradley will be an incredible dad to our future baby, pouring the same love and dedication into parenthood that he does into every other aspect of his life.

More About Us

Travel has always been a big part of our story — together we've taken countless road trips across the United States, discovering hidden gems and meeting wonderful people along the way, and spent meaningful time exploring the history, culture, and charm of the UK. Each experience has opened our hearts and minds, teaching us that love, kindness, and connection are universal languages. Meeting people from different backgrounds and walks of life has made us more compassionate, patient, and deeply understanding of the many ways families can be built. We carry those lessons with us every day and are excited to share that same sense of curiosity, empathy, and wonder with a child — showing them not only the beauty of the world, but also the importance of embracing it with an open heart.

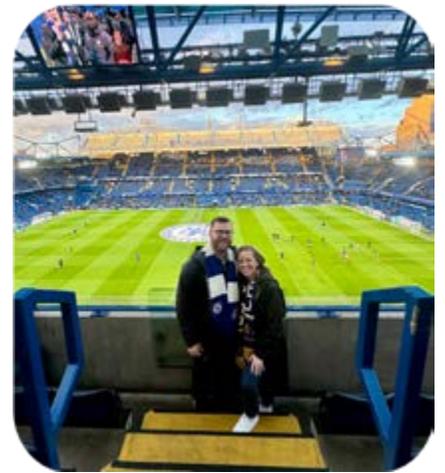

While we love exploring new places, Cincinnati is the place that truly feels like home. It's where we've built a community of friends and family, where traditions are created, and where we picture raising a child surrounded by love and support. Our dream is to make Cincinnati the heart of our adventures — a safe, welcoming home base we always return to, filled with laughter, warmth, and stories from the places we've explored together.

Our Home

Our home is a ranch style 3 bedroom, 3.5 bath home with a finished basement. We have lived here for 3 years. In that time, we have added a fenced in backyard for our dog and constructed a covered patio to create an outdoor space to enjoy with our family and friends. We live in a wonderful neighborhood complete with sidewalks and a pool. In addition, the community also puts on holiday events such as a Christmas parade, turkey trot and easter egg hunt. We live in a great school district and we are just miles from our downtown area full of restaurants, shops and access to a lovely bike trail.

MEET

George

After the unexpected loss of our puppy in November 2023, we took time to reflect and eventually felt ready to welcome another dog into our home. In March 2024, we met George, and it quickly became clear that he was a great fit for our family. Bringing him home has added a lot of joy, routine, and laughter to our daily lives, and we've loved getting to know his personality. George is 50% Golden Retriever and 50% Greater Swiss Mountain Dog. He is friendly, affectionate, and delightfully goofy. He enjoys neighborhood walks, chewing on bones, and enthusiastically destroying brand-new toys.

MEET

Our Family

Our families are so important to us, offering us unwavering support and endless encouragement. Michelle comes from a big family with two older half-siblings and a younger brother, while Bradley is the middle child between two brothers. Family time is precious to us, and we make the most of every moment we have together.

Although Michelle's family lives several states away, making frequent visits challenging, the time we do spend together is always so wonderful. We've cherished the moments when they've visited us, allowing us to share the charm of our home and town with them.

On the other hand, Bradley's family is just a quick 45-minute drive away, making spontaneous get-togethers a regular and cherished part of our lives.

Thank You!

Thank you so much for taking the time to review our adoption profile. We understand that this is an incredibly important decision for you, and we are deeply grateful that you are considering us as potential adoptive parents. We want you to know that we approach this journey with love, respect, and a commitment to providing a warm, supportive, and nurturing home for your child. Your courage and selflessness in this process are truly inspiring, and we would be honored to be a part of your child's life.
